Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0227131A1] The invention concerns a system, wherein the door casing does not comprise casing slide rails and at least one of the guide members of the sliding pane (3) comprises either a part (4a-4b) of the slide (4) of the pane frame, which is integral with said slide and extends it inside the door casing (2), or a part of said pane frame slide, arranged in its extension, but separate therefrom, said slide part (4a-4b) being mounted in either case in standard fashion on the corresponding edge of the pane.
