Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1321589A2] Fixing fitting (10) for a sanitary fixing comprises a housing (12) which is inserted in a form-locking manner in a recess in a sanitary component, one at least two-piece nut (14) lying in the housing so that it rotates about its axis, and a clamping surface which holds the parts (16) of the nut together using a force exerted on the nut. <??>Preferred Features: The housing has an inner conical surface (28) as a clamping surface. The parts of the nut have an outer conical surface (26) as a clamping surface. The fixing fitting has a spring element (24) elastically clamping the parts of the nut.
