Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1842984A2] The plate (5) has an inner surface (a), an outer surface (b) and a protection profile (26) that is inserted into an area of one of four front-sided surfaces, where the plate is manufactured from a lightweight construction material e.g. plastic mass and gas concrete. The protection profile has a protection plate (28) that is arranged orthogonal to the front-sided surfaces and an anchor (30), where the protection profile is formed as a single piece with a reinforcement plate.
