Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0236465A1] The erecting device for filled bags (5) comprises toothed belts (7, 13) to which buckets (23, 25) are fixed. The buckets (23, 25) are fixed to mounting pins extending through the toothed belts (7, 13). The fixing of the buckets (23, 25) is achieved by means of telescopically extending foot pieces, fixed to the buckets (23, 25), which may be axially displaced over the mounting pins. The mounting pins also serve as guide for the belts (7, 13) at least in the region of each upper run.
