Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1337014A2] The plug (10) has a housing (12) with at least one plug pin or socket and a sprung slip contact (14) connected to the pin or socket and protruding out of the housing. The slip contact has a free end within the housing for insertion into a housing opening and with an opening in it for a holding element (16). The holding element has a pin passing through the opening in the slip contact to hold the free end in the housing.
