Abstract (en)

A multiple container for coins and other objects of personal use comprises a hollow body (C) of generally prismatic shape, whose cavity (V) is prearranged to house and eventually fix therein one or more objects of personal use, such as a packet of cigarettes (S), a mobile phone and the like. The walls of said container have a structure formed of two layers (Ci, Ce) with a narrow interspace (I). Said interspace (I) is divided into a plurality of channels, open at least at one end and provided with a central slit (F) of access on the external wall, into each of said channels being housed one or more superposed rows of coins of different value. <IMAGE>
