Abstract (en)

A cantilever conical screen bowl centrifuge comprises a machine support (104), a scroll-or worm-type conveyor (100) rotatably cantilevered from the machine support (104), the conveyor having a hub (108), and a bowl (102) rotatably cantilevered from the machine support. The bowl includes a solid first conical bowl section (110) rotatably cantilevered from the machine support and extending about the hub, and a second conical bowl section (114) connected in cantilever fashion from a free or downstream end of the first conical bowl section opposite the machine support, the second conical bowl section (114) extending away from the machine support (104). <IMAGE>
