Abstract (en)
[origin: DE10101565C1] The invention relates to a dispensing unit for dispensing individual sheets, in particular, banknotes. Said unit comprises a box-type container (14) for holding a stack of sheets (24), whose end surface (40) can be displaced towards a front face (20) of the container (14), a receiving module (12) for receiving the container (14) and a withdrawal device for withdrawing individual sheets from the end surface (40) of the stack through a withdrawal opening (38) of the container (14). The withdrawal device has a withdrawal roller (30), for placing against the end surface (40) of the stack, a transport roller (46), which is parallel to said withdrawal roller and can be driven in the same direction as the latter and a counter-rotating roller (42), which is allocated to the transport roller, can be driven in the opposite direction to the latter and which forms a gap with the transport roller (46). According to the invention, at least the withdrawal roller (30) is located inside the container (14).
