Abstract (en)

An apparatus for continuously manufacturing panels made of expanded plastic material, comprising a lower frame (2) and an upper frame (3), which respectively support a lower conveyor (10) and an upper conveyor (11) connectable one another so as to form and delimit a region for containing/retaining and advancing the expanded plastic panel (30) being manufactured, and sensors (40) for sensing the pressure applied by the expanding plastic material (33) within the region for containing/retaining the expanded plastic material panel (30). <IMAGE>
