Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1355017A2] An attic has a rocker skylight window within a window frame (4). The window frame rests on a centreline horizontal pivot (12) with a brake mechanism, holding the window at a chosen angle. In the chosen open position, the window frame is supported by a sliding strut support (8) pivoting on the frame upright (15) and continually engaged with and sliding along the window frame.
