Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1326480A2] The remote controller is arranged in a housing (13) that can be clipped on, plugged on and/or attached or in a covering provided on an object (1) for daily use, e.g. a watch carried by a person using a communications device or hearing aid. The housing or covering has sprung or clamp-like parts for preferably reversible mounting on the object. AN Independent claim is also included for the following: a hearing aid with a remote controller.
