Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1356950A1] The document (I) includes a single layer (1) that is printed continuously printed only on its first face (1a) that is covered with a protective film (3), whereas its second opposite face (1b) is coated at least partially with a permanent adhesive (27). The single layer is folded along a fold line, so that the second face is folded back on itself, so that the first printed and protected face, constitutes the two opposite sides of the final printed document. An Independent claim is included for a process for fabricating the printed inserts or leaflets.
