Abstract (en)

[origin: DE10055121C1] The compartment is bounded by a floor, side walls, front and rear walls and a cover. An intermediate floor (28) has a fixed section (30) joined to the rear wall and a movable section (34) pivotably linked to the rear section. The movable section and a retaining device (26) are dimensioned so that the retaining device is in contact with the movable section in its pressing position to press it towards the floor (12) of the compartment.
