Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1361167A1] Lid (1) combined with a spoon (8) comprises a spoon made in one piece with the material of the lid and integrated in the lid. The spoon is accessible from the outer surface (9) of the lid and can be removed from the lid via pre-determined breaking points (11). Preferred Features: The pre-determined breaking points between the lid and the integrated spoon are formed by linear areas of thin material which surround the spoon. The base of the lid is flat and the removable spoon is integrated in a flat manner in the lid base. The lid and the spoon are made in one operation by injection molding.
