Abstract (en)

[origin: DE10222230C1] The head for a screwdriver (20) has a radially extending head (23) with a central recess (24) for form locking to the screw to be driven by a bit (3). A holder (4) for the screw head has annular channels (9) for sprung balls (8) to releasably hold the screw. The head has an abutment (11) radially outside the bit to form an engagement surface for the screw which is retained by the balls.
