Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1364609A1] In a built-in domestic appliance with a door (S) hinged along its bottom side and provided with a decorative panel (P), the latter is applied through a mounting system including a top sliding coupling (R) between the panel (P) and the door (S), and a bottom parallelogram hinge connecting the panel (P) to a support (G) which is in turn carried by a bracket (F) secured to the appliance base (M), the vertical position of the support (G) being preferably adjustable. In this way the machine can be easily and quickly installed inside the furniture without requiring any modification of the latter and it is also possible to mount panels of greater height simply by adjusting the position of the support (G) without affecting neither the housing furniture nor the accessibility to the controls. <IMAGE>
