Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1365487A1] The method involves first making a contact element (4.1-4.3) containing the connections from a first material and then molding round the contact with a second material to produce the housing (1), whereby the first material of the contact element merges with the second material of the housing. At least one plastic seam (6) is formed on the contact material to melt and join to the second material.
