Abstract (en)
[origin: WO02069304A1] The painting sheet comprises a carrier (1) for at least one image, said carrier being for example a sheet of paper. The carrier (1) has at least one area (6) that represents one of the components of the design to be achieved. Said area (6) is configured as a half-tone template so that the area (6) appears paler or lighter than the design that is to be achieved by painting this pale image content.
