Abstract (en)

[origin: WO02081324A1] The invention relates to a blank for making an element that is used to carry cans or similar products. Said blank is characterised in that it comprises a main panel (2) and at least two flaps (3, 4) that are articulated to the main panel (2) by means of longitudinal folding lines (5, 6). When said blank (1) is assembled, it forms a carrying element with a transverse section which is incorporated in a more or less triangular casing.
