Abstract (en)
A coin operated entertainment machine is operated by a player using controls (4, 5, 6, 18) to play a game involving rotation of symbol-bearing reels (9). If the reels (9) come to rest displaying a winning combination of symbols an award or prize is made available to the player. The player controls (4, 5, 6, 18) can be used by the player to selectively actuate game-play features such as hold, nudge, gamble, automatic reel rotation, prize selection. As an alternative to player-selection of actuation of these features, the player can use one of the controls (4) in conjunction with a visual display (21) to select an auto-play mode of one or more of the features. <IMAGE>
