Abstract (en)

[origin: WO02092360A1] The invention relates to a writing insert for a writing implement and the like, particularly for a fineliner writing implement. The writing insert contains a writing organ (20) with a writing tip (20a), and contains an enclosure part (10) with a through cavity (14) in which the writing organ (20) is at least partially accommodated, and the writing organ (20), with the writing tip (20a), projects out of one end (10a) of the enclosure part. The writing insert additionally contains a guide device (30), which is connected to the enclosure part (10) and provided for guiding the writing organ (20), and comprises a spring element (50), which elastically pretensions the writing organ (20) in the direction of the writing tip (20a). The invention also provides that the enclosure part (10) is made of a transparent material, preferably of a transparent plastic.
