Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1393869A1] The multiple layer plug of natural cork has laminations (1-3) jointed at their faces (7) to form a cork with the required dimensions. The veins of each of the layers extends between the opposing upper and lower faces and the veins in each layer are offset to prevent communication between the upper and lower faces (4c,5c) of the complete cork. Claims include a method for making the cork.
