Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1394347A1] The guide consists of a base plate (12) and two side plates (13,14) which form a U-shape (10) for enclosing partly one side of the separating element. Inside the separating element is at least one elastic guide element (11) by which the separating element is held. On the side facing the separating element, one or both side plates is detachably fixed a plastic guide element. The first elastic guide elements have an elastic preferably tongue-shaped sprung part (112) held in a frame (111). the frame fits into grooves (15,16) parallel with the side plates.
