Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0243524A2] The spring loaded artist brush, is a hand tool that is made in either wood, plastic or metallic form. The spring loaded design that is situated in between the anterior screw on sleeve and the handle acts as a device that when activated, swings the brush head left to right creating a centrifugal force, which instantly cleans and contours the hair on the brush tip. The removable and replaceable brush tips are a plus for the brush design the one brush handle, mechanism can be used to accommodate various brush head sizes.
