Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1415928A1] The cosmetic fluid container comprises a bottle (2) with a neck (30). A tubular base (4) extending in the length direction (6) covers the bottle and has a bottom (5) on which the bottle rests. The bottle is held in the base by a collar (16) supported around the neck and a tubular element (8). The tubular element integrates elastic means (10) located between its first (12) and second (14) parts which vary the distance between the two parts. The tubular element is connected to the base by its second part. Coupling means (18) fix the ring to the first part of the tubular element.
