Abstract (en)
[origin: WO03019500A2] Disclosed is an object (1) holder, comprising a receiving wall (1) made of flexible, overlapping elastic lamellae (3) which are placed next to each other and secured on a frame (2), forming openable insert openings (10) between the overlapping regions in an initial position. In order to hold objects of various sizes and shapes in a secure manner, the lamellae (3) are cambered along the width thereof and are provided with bent end sections (4) which are fixed to the frame (2).
