Abstract (en)

[origin: WO03028498A1] The invention relates to a necktie holder comprising a shirt clip part (2) and a necktie holding part (3), which is attached thereto and provided for holding a cross-strip of a necktie. The necktie can be easily manufactured and handled by virtue of the fact that the holding part (3) is rigidly connected to the shirt clip part (2) and is provided in the form of a hook part designed in order to hold the cross-strip therein while permitting it to move in limited manner.
