Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1430810A1] Furniture with a body and a drawer comprises an ejector device having a first part (1) arranged on the body and a second part (2) arranged on the drawer or vice versa. The first part has a slide (3) loaded with an elastic force and interacting with the second part to hold the drawer in a holding position, especially when the drawer is closed, against the elastic force and on release to eject the drawer with the elastic force in the ejection direction (6). A catch mechanism is provided in which the slide is locked in the holding position so that for release it is unlocked reversibly from the holding position by sufficient force on the drawer. An Independent claim is also included for an ejector device for the above furniture.
