Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1434114A1] The watch has a support extending partially opposite to an opening (15). Two cover locking units extend toward interior of a cylindrical annular portion of the cover (20) and are caught on shoulders of the support. The units are arranged towards the inside of the portion. The shoulders are inside the portion when the cover is secured to the case. Gripping unit is arranged on a peripheral portion (45) of the cover.
