Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1435414A2] For the installation of a bathroom unit (4) with a shower head (8) at a wall (1), a holder (6) is fitted to the wall to connect with a grip section (7) at the bathroom unit in at least two possible positions. One position allows access at least partially between the bathroom unit and the wall, and the other position puts the unit in the normal working setting. The access setting allows the unit to be placed in a provisional position where the shower supply hose (13) can be attached to the water connection (3).
