Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1441079A2] A bathroom water supply has a cold water and hot water feed joined at a mixer unit which is esp. installed in a recess behind the wall plaster under a cover plate. The unit has an adapter which facilitates the dual-type use. The supply is regulated by a lever located on the cover plate and fitted on the wall plaster outer surface. The mixture of hot and water is discharged through a common pipe.
