Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1447638A1] A curved abutment interface, formed between a barrel section (32) and a receiver section (34), includes a convex portion that exerts a bearing force against a concave portion. A pressure adjuster, coupled to either the barrel or receiver, adjusts the bearing force. Independent claims are also included for the following: (a) a firearm apparatus; and (b) a firearm discharging method.
