Abstract (en)
[origin: WO03040944A1] An apparatus and method for centralized policy management of large-scale networks 221 of computational devices is disclosed. The apparatus includes a number of distributed clients 400 run on registered computers 201-203, gathering policy advisories 401 and reporting 405 relevance 403 to a system administrator 224. The system administrator may view the relevant messages 505 through a management interface 500 and deploy suggested actions to distributed clients 503, where the actions are executed to apply the solutions of the advisories 408.
