Abstract (en)
A composition toy including flat main shapes reproducing certain figures, such as the silhouette of a human body, and flat secondary shapes reproducing garments or complements which can be placed on top of the main shape, achieving the holding of the secondary shapes on the primary shapes by means of magnetic attraction. <??>The silhouette of the main shapes (2) and secondary shapes (3a, 3b, 3c, 3d) is drawn or marked on a sheet (1) made up of at least two layers, one of the layers (6) being formed by a solid emulsion of ferromagnetic particles having a size and being distributed with a density suitable for them to be cut by children's scissors, and the second one of the layers (5) being formed by cardboard, paper, plastic or any similar material which is susceptible to being colored with coloring means such as pencils, wax crayons, markers, silicone-based paints or any other means acceptable for children to use. <IMAGE>
