Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2833841A1] The invention concerns a composition comprising, in a physiologically acceptable medium, at least a retinoid, dispersed benzoyl peroxide and at least a pH-independent gelling agent, the method for preparing same and use thereof in cosmetics and dermatology. [origin: FR2833841A1] Composition comprising a retinoid, benzoyl peroxide and a pH-independent gelling agent is new. An Independent claim is also included for production of the composition by preparing an aqueous phase comprising water and optionally a chelating agent, penetration enhancer and/or humectant; preparing an active phase comprising the retinoid, benzoyl peroxide and optionally a liquid wetting agent and/or penetration enhancer in water; adding the active phase to the stirred aqueous phase; and adding the gelling agent to the stirred mixture.
