Abstract (en)

The label (10) consists of a main layer (20) of paper or polymer that has an adhesive coating (30) on the back and a protective layer (40) that is removed before attaching the label to the container. The front of the label has a detachable promotional coupon (50) attached to it by an adhesive (60) that allows the coupon to be removed and used e.g. to claim a partial refund of the cost of the product. The adhesive can be one that dries once the coupon is detached. The label (10) consists of a main layer (20) of paper or polymer that has an adhesive coating (30) on the back and a protective layer (40) that is removed before attaching the label to the container. The front of the label has a detachable promotional coupon (50) attached to it by an adhesive (60) that allows the coupon to be removed and used e.g. to claim a partial refund of the cost of the product. The adhesive can be one that dries once the coupon is detached. The main layer of the label has a small zone (C) on the back that is not coated with adhesive, enabling the whole label to be removed from the container when necessary.

Abstract (fr)

La présente invention concerne une étiquette (10) destinée à être appliquée sur un article (100), notamment sur un conditionnement de produit cosmétique, comportant : un support (20) dont une première face (21) est destinée à être collée sur l'article, un coupon (50) collé sur une seconde face (22) du support de manière à pouvoir être séparé du support lorsque le support est collé sur l'article, le coupon (50) comportant une marque (M) indiquant une zone à saisir pour séparer le coupon du support, et la première face (21) du support comportant au moins une partie (C) non adhésive s'étendant jusqu'à au moins une portion (11) de bord de l'étiquette. <IMAGE>
