Abstract (en)

A sample garment (10) is provided for fitting an individual interested in selecting a garment. The garment includes an inner surface (18), an outer surface (16), a slit (30) defining a left panel (34) and a right panel (36), and a fitting panel (46) extending from the inner surface of one of the left and right panels. The fitting panel (46) includes rows of a first fitting attachment (50), and at least one row of a second fitting attachment (52), whereby a single garment is readily adaptable for providing a proper fit for individuals of different sizes. <IMAGE>
