Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1468632A1] The system is assembled of two units of a stationary segment joined to the inner surface of a cabinet, and a movable segment (40) and a transitional segment (30), joined laterally to the drawer. Rollers (7) are accommodated inside a carriage (13) guided along the upper profile (34) of the transitional segment (30) and the guiding areas (44, 45) of the movable rail (40). Small wheels (2, 3) are attached to the rear area (32) and in the center of the transitional segment (30), engaging with the lower guiding area of stationary segment.
