Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1468937A1] The applicator (26), as a pen or stick and the like, has a reservoir (12) for the product and at least one jet opening (30,32,34) between the reservoir and the application zone (28). A piston (24) with a spindle (18) advances the product (14) through the applicator to the jet openings, with ratchet structures (38,40) to prevent a piston return movement, with two setting systems to advance a sufficient volume of the product for an applications, and to force it out through the jet openings.
