Abstract (en)
[origin: DE10319024B3] Process for pressing tablets comprises automatically moving a stamping pair to a filling position, filling a die (14) or a number of dies with a material while keeping the rotor (10) still, rotating the rotor and accelerating so that it has the required speed, and holding the rotor in the filling position. Signals are recorded during rotating of the rotor and fed to a computer for evaluation.
