Abstract (en)

[origin: WO03072457A2] The invention relates to a method for filling a carboy (10) with liquid foodstuff for installation in a distribution fountain for said liquid. The liquid is introduced in a disposable flexible liner (12), inserted in the carboy. The flexible liner is embodied to press against the internal walls of the carboy at the end of the filling process. During filling the internal part of the carboy outside the liner is preferably maintained at atmospheric pressure.
