Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1484460A1] The blind has a light device composed of a rigid plate (5). The plate extends longitudinally and vertically in place of strip. An external light source diffuses rays reflected by the sides of the plate, towards one of the edges of the plate for constituting a lighted sign or background light. The blind made of a fabric (2) rolled up on a drum is deployable by articulated arms (3).
