Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1486233A1] The equipment has a respiratory mask (2) connected to a respiratory gas source and applied around nose and mouth of a user in usage position to supply the gas. An eye protection shield (6) is applied around users eyes. A locking tab and a coupling nose respectively situated on the mask and the shield allow to move the shield with respect to the mask and aid the application of the shield on the users face. The locking tab and the coupling nose cooperate with each other to fix the eye protection shield (6) on the respiratory mask (2), when the mask is in usage position.
