Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1487237A1] The hearing aid (3) has an output for acoustic or sound signals, a tubular connection element and/or an angled part (21) on the output for connecting the output to a hose for acoustic transmission into or to the ear canal. The connecting element and/or angled part has a thread (23) for connecting the hose. Independent claims are also included for the following: (a) an angled part or ear hook on a hearing aid arrangement (b) and a method of connecting an acoustic transmission hose to an angled part or ear hook.
