Abstract (en)
[origin: WO03088192A1] A ceiling system (20) with a vertical partition for providing space division in an open plan building environment is provided. The ceiling includes a frame (50) defining an interior portion and a generally flexible member (32) extending across the interior portion. A plurality of anchor members (34) connected to the ceiling system to a top surface. A reconfigurable vertical partition member (40,42,44) is connected to the ceiling.
