Abstract (en)

Drying-polishing machine for cutlery and similar objects, for use after cleaning of the cutlery, for dry and polishing the cutlery, which consists of a vibrating basin supported on a base (1) with shock absorbers (7), incorporating a vibrating motor (5) and having two entry slots (3) and (3') through which the cutlery is introduced with a ground material derived from corncob, incorporating an upward ramp (2) in front of the filters and having an upward ramp (4), thermostats support, control thermostats, heaters and a brake which acts instantaneously.

The machine has a vibrating basin supported on a base (1) with shock absorbers (7). A vibrating motor (5) has two entry slots (3) and (3') through which cutlery are introduced with a ground or crushed derivative of corncob. An upward ramp (2) or channel conveys granules and cutlery in front of filters. Another upward ramp (4) and a thermostats support control thermostats and heaters.
