Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1491675A2] The fixing system has an extended elastic part (1) with an axial passage (4) for a fixing bolt (8) for screwing into an opening (9) formed for the purpose in the washing solution container (2). The extended part is arranged between the frame (3) and the washing solution container and fixes a separating element. The elastic part has a slightly increasingly widening section with a pair of diametrically opposed grooves enabling its expansion and pressure on the plate of the frame when the fixing bolt head is inserted in the container opening.
