Abstract (en)

[origin: WO03086019A1] The invention concerns a planar or substantially planar glass-ceramic plate comprising a surface provided with pinholes (9), said plate being designed to equip a cooking surface (1), characterized in that at least one smooth zone (10), free of pinholes, has been reserved in a site designed, when mounted, to be arranged opposite one or several elements of said table (1) for which the blurred vision resulting from the pinholes (9) needs to be enhanced.
