[origin: EP1493362A1] The assembly has a plate (2) provided with rods to receive pasty pieces. The plate has bores to permit an immovable fixation of the plate on junction node (1) either directly or by an intermediary of a connection shaft (3). The node has tight contours for detachable joining on one of the plates. The connection shaft has two ends for interlocking the plate and the junction node, respectively. An independent claim is also included for a volumetric structure constituted of a support structure forming assembly.
