Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1494207A1] The holder has a support units (3) arranged on a mounting. The support units move toward and away from each other through a guide bar bracket. The support units are mounted on a part of guide units that protrude from a guide groove, to allow the units to reach up to a cover. A side of the cover has fastening units whose sides facing the cover have diameter larger than an aperture width of the grooves.
